VESSELS SEEN IN LYTTTELTON (NEW ZEALAND)

Below seen the COSCO YINGKOU moored in Lyttelton

The 1907 built steam powered tug LYTTTELTON is having a length of 38 mtrs and is equipped with a Coal fired compound steam engine. This beautiful vessel is lovingly maintained in full working order by an impassioned bunch of volunteers. Museum exhibits occupy the captain's cabin, officers' quarters, saloon and other cabins. The engine room is particularly impressive: all polished Brass and oily pistons, it was at the cutting edge of technology in its heyday, with steam power assisted steering. See for more details : <http://www.nzmaritime.co.nz/tug.htm>
